Education Fund Phase 10 - FY 2023 – 2024

Application Guidance

Closing date for applications

Aim of the Fund

The Food for Thought Education Fund gives financial support to develop Food and Health as a context for learning. The fund aims to improve practitioner confidence in providing progressive, high quality, skills-based learning experiences which help to embed food education into the ethos of the establishment. It also provides an opportunity to plan and implement learning experiences which build sustainability and capacity for future development.

What are we looking for this year?

Scottish Government's aspiration that Scotland is a Good Food Nation, means a country where people from every walk of life take pride and pleasure in, and benefit from, the food they buy, serve, and eat day by day. It also means that:

- It is the norm for Scots to take a keen interest in their food, knowing what constitutes good food, valuing it and seeking it out whenever they can.
- People who serve and sell food (including schools) are committed to serving and selling good food.
- Everyone in Scotland has ready access to the healthy, nutritious food they need.
- Dietary-related diseases are in decline, as is the environmental impact of our food consumption.
- Scottish producers ensure that what they produce is increasingly healthy and environmentally sound.
- Food companies are a thriving feature of the economy and places where people want to work.
- Other countries look to Scotland to learn how to become a Good Food Nation.

This year, we are interested in bids which will to contribute to this vision by:

- Ensuring learners have gained understanding about food education and can apply their knowledge and skills in a progressive way.
- Relating projects to the world of work, to reducing food waste or to learning through farm contacts / visits.
- Improving outcomes for learners in ways which seek to eliminate the inequity that currently exists amongst learners from different backgrounds and from particular vulnerable groups.

Your proposal will be scored using set criteria and judged on a competitive basis with other applications. Please refer to Section 5 of the application form which details how we will score your bid.

The questions below may support initial thinking.

- Who will be involved in the implementation of the project?
- How will collaboration with external organisations enhance the approach and outcome?
- What do you want to achieve? How are you going to do this?
- How much funding is it going to require?
- Impact - what will this look like and how will you evidence this?

In this phase, projects should incorporate some or all of the following themes/initiatives:

Skills progression using the Es and Os and the Benchmarks.
Love Food, Hate Waste
Farm Visits
Developing the Young Workforce.
Inequity/attainment gap
Good Food Nation: Scotland's National Food and Drink Policy
A healthier Future – Scotland's Diet and Weight Delivery Plan
Helping parents with food and eating
Better Eating, Better Learning:
Beyond the School Gate: improving food choices in the school community

Funding Limits

Public Bodies

The Fund allows Local Authority primary schools, secondary schools and Early Learning and Childcare Centres to apply for grants of up to £3000.

Non-Public Bodies

Independent ELCCs which are in partnership with their local authority and Independent ASN schools are eligible to apply for grants of up to £3000.

Establishments may apply individually or as part of a cluster of schools from their education authority. Cluster bids must be able to demonstrate the detailed funding which will be allocated to EACH separate establishment within the one bid. Cluster bids can often demonstrate good value for money and the overall bid for clusters may exceed £3000. Cluster bids that involve a combination of public and non-public establishments cannot be accepted.

ELCCs that are part of/attached to a primary school must be counted as one establishment.

Fair Work First

Fair Work First is the Scottish Government's policy for driving good quality and fair work across the labour market by applying specific criteria to grants (and other funding and contracts), being awarded across the public sector. Fair Work First is applicable to all employers.

It is a mandatory requirement that organisations receiving public sector grants will need to pay at least the real Living Wage and provide channels for staff to have a say in the workplace.

If your establishment is not a public body, you are required to confirm in your application that your establishment:

1. pays workers at least the real Living Wage;
2. provides appropriate channels for effective workers' voice, such as trade union recognition;
3. can demonstrate compliance of points 1 and 2 above in line with guidance found here.

For successful applications, points 1 and 2 above will be included in the grant funding offer terms and conditions and a requirement for completion of a short survey to monitor the impact of Fair Work First and the benefits achieved.

Non-public bodies who do not complete this section of the application form, will be deemed non-compliant and the application will not be considered further.

More information on the importance of Fair Work can be found here

Eligible costs

- Resources to develop food and health education – this could include an outdoor growing project, an indoor project related to cooking or hospitality or a more unique project related to your own setting but still addressing the aims of the fund.
- Limited food / bus travel costs can be included however we are looking for sustainable projects that will build capacity for future learning rather than a one-off project that will impact just one year.

Ineligible costs

- Purchasing of ipads / devices or any other resources which don't directly meet the aims of the fund

Other sources of funding

There is no requirement to find partnership funding but please let us know of other sources of funding you may use to develop your project. There is a space to do this at the bottom of Section 4. Please note that a maximum of £3000 can be allocated against Food for Thought expenditure.

Additional income may include:

- A contribution from your own organisation.
- Funding from other organisations, programmes, competitions or industry. □ Grants from trusts and foundations.

Note - It may not always be possible to fund every element of every successful application. The total amount will be subject to budget availability and adherence to the aims of the fund. In some cases, projects will be part-funded.

How can I find out about previously successful Food for Thought Projects?

- There are several Food for Thought 'interesting practice' case studies on the Food Summary Page of the National Improvement Hub which include completed applications and evaluations.

Monitoring and Evaluation

- Education Scotland issues grants to numerous bodies and organisations each year. Grantees are encouraged to respond to communications in a timely manner including completion of grant paperwork, reports and other requests. This will free up our staff time to better support your work and plans.
- We will need to know what happened as a result of our funding and will ask you to monitor project activities in order to measure the impact of your project in relation to the intended outcomes of the fund. If your application is successful, you will be asked to complete an evaluation in January 2024.
- One of Education Scotland's officers will contact you once your funds have been awarded. They will be available to discuss your progress and provide support, particularly prior to the submission of your final evaluation.
