

13 September - 1 November

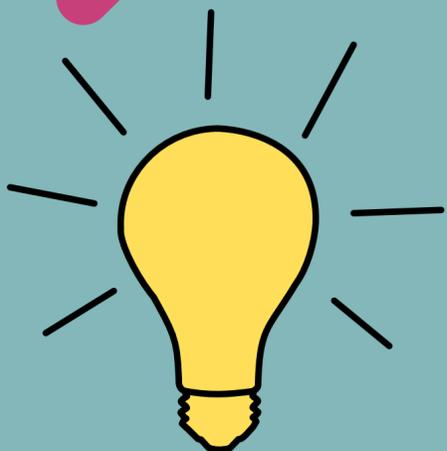

Education Scotland and partners are working together to help practitioners and learners engage with the COP themes of nature, energy transition, clean transport, adaptation and resilience and finance.

Get involved

Explore

Explore the themes through interactive learning spaces.

Challenge

Engage with a new weekly challenge linked to the themes.

Action

Work together to respond to the climate and biodiversity crisis.

Share

Share with learners across Scotland

Who can engage with Countdown to COP?

Anyone can engage with Countdown to COP:

- no matter where you live in Scotland,
- if you are a learner in early learning and childcare, primary or secondary setting,
- if you are a practitioner working with learners, communities or families.

What can we learn together?

Nature

How we respond to the twin biodiversity and climate crisis and how nature and people can thrive together.

Finance

How global and individual decisions impact on climate and biodiversity.

Energy transition

How we move from fossil fuels to renewables and become more energy efficient in our daily lives.

Clean transport

How walking and cycling and public transport can help tackle the climate and biodiversity crisis.

Adaptation and resilience

How people and communities respond and adapt across the world and how we can build resilience.